

8 to 10,000 Expected at Scientology Sessions

The first International Conference for World Peace and Social Reform, a four-day event beginning Wednesday in the Anaheim Convention Center, is expected to attract 8,000 to 10,000 Scientologists. The Church of Scientology, an applied religious philosophy, is sponsoring the meetings.

The program will include speakers from government, medicine and social reform, as well as exhibits by artists and musicians.

Key speakers Friday and Saturday will be Victor Marchetti, a former CIA official and coauthor of the book, "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence"; Daniel Sheehan, attorney for the National Jesuit Office of Social Ministries who is known for his work on the Pentagon Papers case, and state Assemblyman Richard Alatorre.
